A LIST OF HIGH POINT DOINGS

MAN FELL FROM A SCAFFOLD ONTO A SAW.

The Fall Cost Him His Toe—Old Maids' Convention Gives Way Before the Grip. The Burned Out People Setting Up. Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, March 14.—Samuel Ferrell, an employee at the Eagle Furniture Company yesterday fell from a truck, loaded with lumber, to the pit of a re-saw stand. The sole of the right foot and a toe on the left foot struck the saw, which inflicted painful flesh wounds. He lost his toe by the accident.

Mrs. Mary E. Cartland, of Greensboro, and Mrs. G. M. Johnson, of Virginia, will conduct a Woman's Christian Temperance Union Institute here March 20-22. Both ladies are enthusiastic workers in their cause and are well known.

Mr. Finley Thompson, of Durham, an expert decorator, has been engaged to complete the inside work of Mr. J. Elwood Cox's magnificent residence here.

Mrs. W. B. Bradsher, who for the past several days has been extremely ill, is on the road to recovery.

Miss May Fisher, daughter of Mr. Geo. H. Fisher, a former resident of this place, but now of Chicago, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Rogers.

Dr. D. A. Staunton, who for the past several weeks, has been at the Sanitarium at Salisbury recovering from the effects of an operation, is improving steadily and will be at home the last of the week.

Prof. S. L. Davis, who has been suffering with an attack of rheumatism, is able to be out again.

At a called meeting of the First Presbyterian church a call was extended Rev. A. C. Caldwell, of Barium Springs, to become pastor of that church. Mr. Caldwell has accepted and will preach his first sermon to the congregation Sunday evening. Mr. Caldwell is a man of family and the officials of the church are preparing to build a house for his use.

What proved to be an enjoyable social event was an "at home" given by Miss Annetta Tate, recently, complimentary to her cousin, Miss Carrie Joyce, of Detroit, Mich. A large number of young people were present. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music and popular games. Several of the parties who suffered by the fire last week have had their loss adjusted and resumed business, some of them at different locations.

Work of cleaning away the debris at the Groom building, now owned by Dr. J. J. Cox, has begun in view of commencing the erection of buildings right away.

The firm of Younts & Campbell are building a meat market on Rankin street.

Dr. J. J. Reitzel has moved into his comfortable offices over J. H. Petty's store.

Mr. Thos. W. Anderson, son of Mr. Joshua Anderson, died yesterday. He had been the victim of pneumonia for two weeks. The deceased was 22 years of age. The funeral services were held today from Springfield meeting house.

Miss Luda Clinard, who is one of the graduates this year at the graded school, has made an average of 97% on her studies, the highest on record in the history of the school.

Rev. L. R. Pruett, of Charlotte, who assisted Rev. Dr. J. B. Richardson in a series of meetings here last fall, will return here in April and conduct a ten day's meeting at the Baptist church. He made a good impression when last here.

Miss Blanche Breneman, an elocutionists of much reputation, will give an entertainment here Monday night, March 25th, in the Business Men's Hall. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will receive the benefits.

As there is so much sickness in the community at present (so many families having grip) the Spinsters Convention which was to have taken place tonight, has been indefinitely postponed.

AN INTERESTING RELIC.

Copy of an Opinion Written in Judge Gaston's Own Hand in 1819.

It is not every one who runs across so fine a relic as one now in possession of Prof. G. A. Grimsley, of this city. While at his old home in Greene county recently this gentleman found some old papers of his father and brought them home with him. Among them was the valuable record referred to.

It is nothing less than a manuscript of Judge Gaston, one of the State's greatest men, written in 1819. On the back are the words, "Opinion of Gaston on Hart's will." The paper reads as follows:

"I am informed that William Hart by his last will gave certain negroes and other personal property to his wife for life and afterwards to other persons—that his widow has dissented from the will and that there is much difficulty in knowing how to allot her share. The mode directed by law is plain. The jury should first enquire whether the widow gets by the will as much in value as she would have taken without the will. If they think so they will make such a report to the court and proceed no further. If they think not they will value what she gets by the will and then say how much more she ought to have to make up her share. If there be a residuum then this deficiency should be taken from the residuum—but if there is not then the jury will say what sum in money will make up her share and for this sum Judgment will be given against the Executors. At all events the widow takes what the will gives her—"

"WM. GASTON.

"Sept. 8th, 1819."

The writing is in a small, smooth, and plain hand. The paper is well preserved but faded.

AUNT AMY WHITEST.

An Humble, Useful, and Self-Respecting Old Colored Woman Has Passed to Her Reward.

A lady who knew her sends the following appropriate notice of the death of old Aunt Amy Whitest, which The Telegram prints with pleasure:

"Aunt Amy Whitest, wife of Henry Whitest, after a short illness, died at her home on Maple street in this city yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. "Aunt Amy" was born in Greensboro in 1824 and has spent the whole of her long and useful life here among us. She was well known to all of the residents of Greensboro, and especially to the older ones, and all who knew her held her in the highest esteem and regard. She had been a familiar figure for many years and will be missed. Faithfully discharging every duty, conscientious, upright and self-respecting, going from the call of duty to the bed of sickness, and in five short days, she passed to her last rest in that home where the tired laborer meets the reward for the work that has been well done here on earth. The funeral will take place from the St. Matthews M. E. Church, colored, at 11 o'clock a. m., Saturday, Rev. S. A. Peeler officiating."

Mr. Mebane to Live Here.

Mr. W. N. Mebane, brother of ex-Superintendent C. H. Mebane, and clerk of the latter while he was in office, has moved to Greensboro to live. He has just moved from Raleigh.

MARTIN A DEFAULTER

STOLE FROM THE PENITENTIARY

GOVERNOR AYCOCK SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE MAKING IT KNOWN.

Martin is the Last of the Fusion Officers and Admits that He Has Been Stealing for Sometime—House Adjourns to Meet April Third—Allen and Graham Filibuster the Code Commission Bill to Death. Special Dispatch to The Telegram.

Raleigh, March 15.—At forty-five minutes past eleven the House adjourned to meet again April the third.

A bill passed abolishing the offices of enrolling and engrossing clerks. The Secretary of will in the future have this work done by contract. It was very costly this term.

A bill passed revoking the license of barkeepers, who permit gambling in their places of business.

The last act of the Legislature was the adoption by a rising vote of a resolution of sorrow and regret at the death of ex-President Harrison, "one of America's greatest statesmen," and extending sympathy to the family.

The code commission bill failed because the House failed to concur in the Senate amendment making the salary $1,500. Allen and Graham killed it by filibustering until there was no quorum. Exactly three fourths of the Senators really favored it.

The Senate tabled the bill abolishing office of enrolling and engrossing clerks.

The bill giving the penitentiary control of the dangerous insane passed final reading.

Dula, Republican, offered a resolution of thanks to Lieutenant Governor Turner, for the impartial way in which he had presided over the deliberations of the Senate. He, Marshall, and Crisp, said the Republicans had been treated most kindly and said that the Republicans were gaining in the west.

The Lieutenant Governor was presented with a chest of silver.

At noon the court of impeachment met, Guthrie presented the official oaths of Furches and Douglas. A certified copy of the records in the case was also presented, also J. C. L. Harris' demand on the State Treasurer, and the mandamus of the Judges.

The court took a recess till three o'clock, when J. C. L. Harris was put on the stand as the first witness.

MAJ. MARTIN'S DEFAULT.

There was a sensation here yesterday afternoon when Gov. Aycock sent the following message to the Legislature:

"It becomes my painful duty to communicate the fact that a deficit has been found in the account of the State's prison in the Treasury Department. I am informed by the Treasurer, who has been investigating for two or three days, that the deficit amounts to about $4,000, so far as has been ascertained. The deficit appears to have begun early in the year 1900 or possibly before then and continued until about the last of November. Books have been changed so as to force balances. This morning State Treasurer sent for W. H. Martin, who had for several years been a clerk in the office until the 10th of March, and confronted him with the changes in the books. Maj. Martin admits the changes in the books and confesses he took the money, according to his statement, $3,800.

"I deem it my duty to lay these matters before you that a committee may be appointed with authority to send for persons and papers and make a thorough and complete examination. The committee should, of course, be authorized to sit during the recess of the Legislature."

The House and Senate at once adopted a resolution raising a committee of three to make the examination.

The story of the discovery of the theft is interesting. Five days ago the penitentiary sent a warrant to the Treasurer for some money and it was found the account had been overdrawn about $800. Clerk Arrington was sent to the penitentiary to investigate, as the penitentiary claimed it had at least $4,000 in the Treasury. It was quickly found that the amounts of many warrants had been increased in the most bungling manner.

For instance a warrant for $1,005 was altered to $1,605; one for $114 to $414. The warrants did not tally with the checks issued, as the stubs show. The legislative investigating committee which examined the books of the Treasurer last December, did not, it is learned, compare the stubs of the check books with the warrants. Had it done so, the stealing would have been discovered then.

As soon as the Treasurer discovered the theft he sent for Martin this morning. He also sent for ex-Treasurer Worth and the president of the bank in which these particular funds were kept. All these went to the Auditor's office. It is said that Martin, who had been a clerk in charge of the books of State institutions, knew five days ago that his theft had been discovered. Today he called the bank president out of his room and made full confession to him. He said he had been stealing over a year, but perhaps that time was suggested by a remark made by the Treasurer that the frauds had been discovered reaching back something over a year. Martin told the Treasurer and Auditor that nothing was wrong with any accounts other than that of the penitentiary; that there he did all his stealing. The investigation by the Treasurer only goes back a year and it may be there was stealing before then.

Martin said he did not intend to be sent to the penitentiary. Some construe this to mean that he will commit suicide. One official said his word was worthy of a crazy man. Of course Martin could have left. He is under $20,000 bond in a surety company. He was arrested on a bench warrant, and required to give $4,000 bail; could not give it and at 7:30 was jailed.

He was during the civil war a major of a New York regiment, and moved here in 1865. He was for many years chief clerk in the revenue department. His age is about 60. It is hinted that a woman was the cause of his downfall.

General Miles Enroute to Cuba.

Lieutenant General Miles and Mrs. Miles and their son, Sherman Miles; Quartermaster General and Mrs. Ludington; Col. H. H. Whitney, of the artillery corps, aide-de-camp to General Miles; Col. Albert A. Pierce, of Boston; Frank Wiborg, of Cincinnati, and General Miles' secretary and orderly left Washington for Cuba last night at 9:55, and passed through Greensboro at five o'clock this morning.

After spending about two days at Palm Beach, Fla., the party will embark at Miami for Havana. It is the purpose of General Miles and General Ludington to inspect the principal army posts in Cuba. It is expected that the party will start back from Cuba the latter part of next week. Although General Miles has been commissioned to look into certain military matters for the Secretary of War, says an Associated Press Dispatch, it is stated with the utmost positiveness at the war department that his visit has no connection whatever with the political affairs of Cuba.

Representative Whitaker Back

Representative Whitaker came from Raleigh at noon. Mr. Whitaker has made a fine reputation as a legislator, and done his duty so well that nobody will ever have any "crow to pick with him."

DEATH OF LITTLE RUTH HUNTER

ILL ONLY THREE DAYS AND DEATH WAS UNEXPECTED.

She Went to School Monday Happy and Playful and Last Night Was a Corpse. Mr. Hunter Was Away.

Last Monday Little Ruth, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hunter, went to school as happy and gleeful as all the other little tots. Last night before eleven o'clock her sweet little body was a corpse and her pure soul had gone to the other world. Mr. Hunter travels for the Hunter Manufacturing Company, and left home on Monday. He came back this morning in response to the death laden telegram which carried the fateful news that his little child was dead.

Little Ruth was taken sick on Tuesday morning with something like spinal meningitis. She was not considered dangerously sick even so far down as yesterday afternoon. The attending physician made a call about seven last evening and saw no alarming symptoms. About 10 o'clock the child was suddenly taken worse. The attendants called Rev. T. M. Johnson, who rooms in the house, to go for the physician. While he was dressing, the child died.

It will be recollected that between two and three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Hunter lost their oldest child, and one yet remains. They are, of course, overwhelmed in this last and terrible bereavement, and the heartfelt sympathy of their friends and neighbors go out to them in their sadness.

The funeral of the little one will occur at the family residence on Pearson street at 10:30 tomorrow.

The A. & M. Appropriation.

The colored A. & M. College of North Carolina, situated at Greensboro, for the past two years has been receiving from the State $7,500 annually. Prior to the session of the Legislature of 1899 it received $12,500. For the coming two years at least it will again receive the latter amount. In the Senate yesterday General Glenn moved that $5,000 annually be appropriated to the College, provided the State board of education does not give the college an appropriation equal to that of other normal schools. This was adopted.

The House concurred in the amendment.

A Peculiar Accident.

John Gilchrist, a negro laborer at the coal chute, injured himself Wednesday afternoon while working in the coal on the chute. He was working in a large pile of coal, loading one of the dumps used to measure it out to the engines, and in attempting to break a large lump, struck a heavy blow, which glanced, at the point of the pick struck him in the leg, inflicting a very painful and possibly serious wound. The services of a physician were called in and his injury attended to, and he was sent home.

Police Changes.

The night and day shift police squads change places today. Officers Pearce and Weaver will swing billies in the day time, while the present day force will keep vigil during the hours of darkness.

For some time the health officer has been doing regular duty on the police force, but next week he will go back to his accustomed task again, and will look after the sanitation of the city.

Christian Endeavor Convention

There will be a Christian Endeavor Convention held in Grace M. P. church, commencing next Saturday and continuing through Sunday. It is the meeting of the Greensboro District Christian Endeavor, and is not denominational. An appropriate program has been arranged and will be published in The Telegram at a later date. The public is not only invited, but urged to attend these services.

THE SUICIDE OF A BOWERY KING

The End of the Popular Career of the Dutch Showman who Changed His Bible Figure to More Lively Productions.

New York Sun.

Albert Bernstein, wax-show man and originator in this country of the anatomical museum, killed himself yesterday in a little room in the Occidental Hotel on the Bowery, where he had been stopping for a week. There was a pistol hole in the breast. The chair in which Bernstein seated himself for suicide had been pulled close up against the window, so that the man's last look had been on the Bowery, which he had entertained for more than a quarter of a century and where his friends were legion. Within a stone's throw of where he sat, a lusty-lunged barker at the portals of the museum that Bernstein built years ago shouted the merits of the wax figures that the old museum man had taken such pride in, and which in years gone by he had given fame and fortune.

Bernstein, who was 65 years old, left nothing to show what reason he had for his act. The Bowery, which had known him as an entertainer ever since he came to this country twenty-five years ago, had several reasons to suggest for it. One was domestic unhappiness, which it was known had caused his separation a week ago from his family, who lives in Harlem. Another was the gout, which he had had for some time and which has caused him, recently, a good deal of pain and worry. He was last seen alive on Wednesday at his old museum near Grand street, and at the house of his old friend, Dr. Hochmuth, who made his wax figures, on East Eighth street. Yesterday morning Dr. Hochmuth received a postal card, posted the night before, in which Bernstein bade him good-bye and said that he had gone.

Bernstein was known from one end of the Bowery to the other as a man who had befriended many a genius of the kind that buds in the Bowery. His practice of never going into a saloon without treating all whom he found there endeared him to great numbers of persons. It was a kind of democracy that the Bowery liked, and in the twenty-five years that Bernstein had been known there he had never been known to fail in it.

But the Bowery was his only headquarters, and as an itinerant showman he was known from one ocean to the other among those to whom the limit price for entertainment is 15 cents. He was born in Hanover, Germany, and as a boy peddled wax figures. He organized a traveling show of wax figures, met a woman who owned a wax works show, married her and consolidated the shows. He came to this country after European travels, comprehended the Bowery quickly and exchanged his wax figures, which had been of religious personages, for others of more romantic character and eventually evolved his anatomical museum.

The museum was a success from the start and before Bernstein had been here five years he built the Gaiety Museum, near Grand street. Later with his wax works he travelled all over the United States many times. Here in this city he soon had a theatre combined with anatomical display and when this developed competition he introduced his "Friday night for amateurs" feature, which increased his popularity. The ambitious talent of public through Bernstein. Aspirants the Bowery got a chance to appear in for the prize ring and the "break-down" caught his theatre, and some with talent passed on to higher things.

Two years ago Bernstein sold out to a Chicago man and for a time continued with him as manager. Then he ran a show in Philadelphia and took to the road again with some new wax exhibits. These he sold a year ago.

SOMETHING NEW

THE UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE SLICER is unequalled for slicing all vegetables. The knives of this machine are of the finest quality of cutlery steel, carefully hardened and tempered and ground to a keen edge and the arrangement of the hinged lid makes it impossible to cut the fingers. It is adjusted to cut thin or coarse instantly by turning the thumbnut at the end of the shaft.

In other slicers but one vegetable can be sliced at a time, in the universal as many can be sliced at one time as the hopper will contain, thereby saving much time for the housewife.

Come in and examine them whenever convenient.

THE EMERSON PIANO

Stand and don't you forget it. The State Normal and Industrial College, Greensboro, N. C., bought the same piano in 1896, 1897 and 1900. Dr. McIver, who looks carefully after the interest of the college, gave all the dealers and branch piano houses a chance to compete and a number competed by pricing their pianos, while others put their pianos by the side of the old and tried EMERSON, which came off victorious the third time. The Emerson piano will stand by and always gives that satisfaction that pleases the owner. Call and see them.

LIGHT IS BREAKING IN YANKEEDOM

Washington Post.

Some correspondence between Prof. Henry Lee Prescott, of Harvard University, and Gov. Aycock, of North Carolina, is of more than passing interest. Prof. Prescott requested a copy of the Governor's inaugural address, being an earnest seeker after truth and especially desiring enlightenment as to the suffrage condition in North Carolina. In complying with his request Gov. Aycock explained that unlettered whites were allowed franchise because, as a rule, they are church going people, who also attend courts and political meetings and who are well informed, even though they do not read and write. "They are capable of self-government," wrote the governor, "and our purpose was to deprive no man of participation in the government who was capable of performing the duties incumbent upon the voter." Incidentally, Gov. Aycock referred to the article of Prof. J. B. Thayer, in the Harvard Law Review, on "Our Recent possessions," as containing an exposition of the principle which actuated the amenders of the North Carolina constitution.

The effect of Governor Aycock's inaugural address upon Prof. Prescott was to cause him to think still more of the white man's point of view and to be willing to abide a little more by it. This is toleration which is surprising, in view of the bigotry with which New England generally regards southern problems. But what is even more remarkable is the expression of Prof. Thayer as given to Prof. Prescott. He says:

"Holding the enactments regarding this question, as on all matters, of the southern, as of all the states, strictly to the test of the constitution—within the limits it seems to me that this race problem is one for the southern people themselves to work out, and that we of the other regions should not meddle in it. We cannot understand the condition or its treatment as well as they,

and it is but just to let them deal with it as they, with their near vision, may see best. It is their affair, and I believe they are honest in it."

Prof. Prescott adds that his colleague's views are growing "in this old Puritan stronghold." Let us hope so. No one realizes more sincerely or more deeply than the southerner the serious nature of the problem which confronts his section, and no one is more anxious to reach a wise and just solution. His environment is peculiar and cannot be fully understood or even appreciated by any one who resides in Massachusetts or in Oregon. The southerner must be allowed to work out his own salvation. He will do it, and successfully, with all the more conservatism and prudence because of the business conditions which prevail in the south today. The dollar is jingling in that section, as it is elsewhere in the country, and its music has a restraining sound. The fire-eating period is passing away, and in its stead there comes the quickening sense of commercial development. It is this sense which will aid the southerner in rightly deciding the course which he must pursue in order to secure honest and capable government, placed in power by intelligent and property-owning voters.

We are glad that Prof. Thayer's views have been made public. A light is dawning in Yankeedom, sure enough.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15.

Senator John McLaurin, who was elected as a Democrat by the democratic state of South Carolina, has formally quit the Democratic party. It is said that he has for some time voted with the Republican on the questions which are supposed to separate the two parties. Senator McLaurin, has, we believe, about half of his term to serve yet. The little stir that his retirement from the party seems to be causing in South Carolina is hard to explain.

Since writing the above we notice the following editorial in the Charlotte Observer, which is quite interesting: "Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, denying the report that he has had his name stricken from the Democratic caucus roll, says that he merely absented himself from certain caucus conferences on subjects on which he is at variance with his party associates, through a disinclination to embarrass them in their deliberations, and he adds that if his health and strength permit he will present these issues as best he can in the next Democratic primary in his State. Senator McLaurin is out of line with his party on the ship subsidy bill and on its policy as to expansion, having, during the late session of Congress, voted for the shipping bill and for the Cuban and Philippine amendments to the army bill as well as for the bill itself; but he evidently does not consider that these views and votes put him outside of the pale of the party, else he would not talk of discussing these issues before the next Democratic primary in South Carolina."

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has offered to give $20,000 for a public library in Charlotte, if the city will provide a site for it and guarantee $2,500 annually for its maintenance. The Charlotte Aldermen are discussing the matter and in all probability the offer will be accepted. Charlotte may account herself fortunate if by any means she secures a free public library.

OCCURENCES FROM MORNING PAPERS

The following Americans have been appointed chevaliers of the Legion of Honor, in connection with the Paris Exposition: Colonel Charles C. Long; Humphreys, the artist, and James Deering, and Mr. Puig, an engineer.

The London Times says it believes that in addition to a sugar tax and the re-imposition of the registration duty of a shilling on corn, the income tax will be increased by two pence or 4 pence on the pound.

Private advices received in Washington from high authority in Havana are to the effect that the Cuban people as a whole are manifesting very little interest in the proceedings of the constitutional convention, and that it is not possible for any person at this moment to forecast knowingly the action of the delegates upon the pending propositions touching relations with the United States.

The trial of the nine men charged with the lynching of John K. Knox, the Canadian, for shooting and killing his step-son, began at Scranton, Miss., yesterday. The chief witness, Jeff Larson, was brought into court. The case was heard all afternoon and continued until today. There was much talk of trouble from the friends of the accused, but none concurred.

"An agreement has been entered into between the Pennsylvania, the Southern Railroad, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line and the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad Companies, for the joint ownership of the railroad from Washington to Richmond, Va. The road is now owned by the Pennsylvania Company from Washington to Quantico, and by the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac from Quantico to Richmond. It is stated that the Pennsylvania Company has agreed to sell its line from Washington to Quantico and all the companies are to have an equal share in the road from Washington to Richmond. A new company is to be formed and a value is to be placed upon both the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac road. Each company is to have a sixth interest."

The schedule of the Virginia-Carolina Baseball League was promulgated yesterday, by President Cunningham and Secretary Doran. The opening dates, April 15, 16 and 17, find the teams as follows: Raleigh at Norfolk; Portsmouth at Newport News-Hampton; Wilmington at Richmond. The closing day, September 21, finds them: Raleigh at Richmond; Wilmington at Newport News-Hampton; Norfolk at Portsmouth.

Fire yesterday destroyed every business house in Cloverport, Kentucky, and made 1,000 persons, half of the population, homeless. In the loss was a plant of the American Tobacco Company, consisting of two stemmeries and 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco.

Vice President Roosevelt left Washington yesterday for Oyster Bay. A half-hour before his departure he called at the White House to say good-bye to President McKilney.

The Senate branch of the Maryland Legislature yesterday passed the disfranchisement bill and it will probably become a law tomorrow. Senator Gorman directed the fight for the bill and it was put through by a strict Democratic vote.

CASHIER SHOT.

After Bank Had Been Robbed He Got Killed in Trying to Prevent the Robbers' Escape.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 14.—Chas. W. Ryan, cashier of the Halifax National Bank, was shot to death by Henry Rowe and Weston Keiper, of Lykens, at noon, today, in an attempt at bank robbery. The robbers were captured by a party of citizens soon after the crime and were brought to the Harrisburg jail, together with F. B. Straley, of Lykens, who is suspected of being an accomplice. Rowe and Keiper drove over to Halifax from Elizabethville this morning, and hatched their team on the outskirts of the town boldly entered the bank with revolvers presented. Each had a revolver and they demanded the attaches of the bank to throw up their hands and turn over the money.

One of them held in check Abraham Fortenbaugh, the president of the bank; Isaac Lieter, the teller, and ex-Representative Swartz, of Duncannon, who was in the bank on private business. The other covered Cashier Ryan and under the menace of the revolvers the cashier collected the cash in the drawers to the amount of $2,000, and placed it in a satchel the robbers had brought with them. Rowe, with the cash-stuffed satchel in his hand, backed out toward the door, and Keiper also moved toward the entrance to the bank.

Just when it seemed that the robbers would succeed in getting away, Cashier Ryan leaped forward in an attempt to knock up the revolver of the man with the money. In the scuffle several shots were fired and Ryan fell to the floor shot through the groin by a bullet from the pistol of Rowe. Fortenbaugh grabbed Rowe and after a short scuffle threw him to the floor. Keiper ran out the door. The noise of the shooting attracted J. E. Lyter, who has a store near the bank building. He ran out with his shot gun and pursued Keiper for one block and shot him back of the head, when the robber surrendered.

and his friends yesterday attributed his loss of spirit to this move. He had never been the same since, they said.

Bernstein lived with his wife up to a week ago at 32 West 112th street. They had five children. His family would not say what caused him to leave home. His wife could not be seen. The Bowery estimates of his fortune vary between $50,000 and $200,000.

A Growing Reputation.

Greensboro Steam Laundry the Favorite with Traveling People as Well as Home Folks.

The growing reputation of Greensboro in all her various lines of industry, business and enterprise is an object of satisfaction to her citizens, and they hear of all examples of progress with pleasure. Hence the growing reputation of the Greensboro Steam Laundry is a source of great satisfaction to the people at home who have all the time appreciated the excellent work of that establishment. Since the late installment of new machinery, the traveling public has found that work done here, which must, by the nature of things win on its merits only, excels the work of the large city laundries. Therefore it is no infrequent occurrence for Mr. Dick to receive letters like the following, which came yesterday through the Hotel Guilford from a customer who had work done here when passing through:

"Atlanta, Ga., March 12.

"To the Housekeeper,
Hotel Guilford,

Greensboro, N. C.

"Will you kindly send the enclosed to be laundried for me? In my travels I find no place where work is as nicely and carefully done as at Greensboro. * * * Please forward when completed to me, in care of the New St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, La."

This letter is only one example. Traveling men save their laundry for weeks at a time to have it done by the Greensboro Steam Laundry. Mr. Miller, the manager, who is now at his old place, has been with Mr. Dick for eight years, and his skill as a manager is unexcelled. The travelling public is quick to find where it can get the best service, and in laundry work as in other things, it goes for the best.

Greensboro people should make a note of this.

The Greensboro Steam Laundry has spared no pains in securing the best machinery, and is strictly up to date in every particular.

You can get either Gloss or Domestic finish. Where no preference is expressed, domestic finish is given. Domestic finish is all the go in the fashionable world. It is neat and prolongs the life of your linen fifty per cent. They do not iron your collars and cuffs with a gloss finish and then steam the gloss off, or wipe it off with a damp rag. Their $1,000 machine is the best on the market and gives a perfect domestic finish right from the heated roll. There are no more saw edges, no more broken turn down collars, no more broken points.

HOLE IN THE LUNGS

There are thousands of men and women, as well as ever, with holes in their lungs: consumption stopped.

Consumption stopped is consumption cured. What does it?

Some change in the way of life and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

With the emulsion, give some attention to circumstances: change from a dark damp close room to a sunny dry airy one; from city to country; from hard to an easy life, indoors to out.

A hole in the lungs once healed is no worse than a too-tight waist or waistcoat.

Take the emulsion, and give it a chance to heal the wound.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Joked on the Gallows.

Vienna Dispatch, 11th.

The man who murdered Johann Posta exhibited the most extraordinary indifference and cynicism on the gallows. The night before the execution he smoked and drank, played cards and sang comic songs. He refused to give interviews, but told newspaper correspondents they might question his dead body on the next morning. To the priest who attended him he said: "I have sinned less than you, clear out of here."

On the way to the gallows the murderer whistled a popular tune. He made an address to the spectators in which he said: "You will have better sport today than I. I would like to see what my corpse would look like dangling in the air."

When the rope was placed around his neck he said: "Don't knock my hat off: it's a new hat." He died with a smile on his face.

A $5,000,000 Gift.

Pittsburg Dispatch 13th.

Two communications from Andrew Carnegie, which are officially made public tonight, tell of the steel king's retirement from active business life and of his donation of $5,000,000 for the endowment of a fund for superannuated and disabled employees of the Carnegie Company. This benefaction is by far the largest of many created by Mr. Carnegie, and is probably without a counterpart anywhere in the world. This fund will in no wise interfere with the continuance of the savings fund established by the company fifteen years ago for the benefit of its employees. In this latter fund nearly $2,000,000 of the employees' savings are on deposit, upon which the company by contract pays 6 per cent. and loans money to the workmen to build their own homes.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of static or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

A FRIGHTFUL BLUNDER.

Will often cause a horrible burn, scald cut or bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. A MONSTER DEVIL FISH

Destroying its victim, is a type of constipation. The power of this murderous malady is felt on organs and nerves and muscles and brain. There is no health till it's overcome. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Only 25 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by C. E. Holton.

Headache often results from a disordered condition of the stomach and constipation of the bowels. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by C. E. Holton.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup. It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthma and has long been a well known remedy for whooping cough. Howard Gardner.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at C. E. Holton's drug store.

FINAL AGREEMENT IS STILL DISTANT

Washington Post, 14th.

Mr. Rookhill, special United States Commissioner at Pekin, has not yet been able to inform the State Department of the character of the agreement said to have been reached by the foreign ministers relative to the basis of indemnity claims, though he has been in communication with the department on the general subject. It is apprehended that the final agreement is still distant. The pursuance of the punitive expeditions and the insistence of some of the ministers upon designating more Chinese notables for execution are regarded here as sure to result in the negotiations if persisted in, and Mr. Rookhill is using all of his powers, by express direction of the department to induce the ministers and military powers to cease what are regarded as ruthless and bloody measures.

WILL THE POWRS BACK CHINA?

The Pekin correspondent of the Times, writing yesterday, says:

It is believed that the Chinese court has decided not to authorize the signature of the Manchurian convention until it is seen how for the powers will support China in a refusal to sign.

"So far as the assurance of Count Lamsdorf (Russian foreign minister) are concerned, nothing of this kind will have any decisive weight until Russia renounces her policy of secret negotiations with China and discloses the terms of the secret engagement she has undoubtedly imposed on China in recent years."

"The chartered bank agency at Port Arthur has been compelled to close," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Times, "Russia having declared a banking monopoly there in favor of the Russo-Chinese bank."

The afternoon papers express some alarm over the friction which has arisen at Tientsin between the British and the Russians over a piece of land alleged to have belonged to the railroad company for some years, which they consider may lead to unpleasant complications. While approving the action of Gen. Barrow, the British chief of staff in Pekin, in ordering work on the siding in the disputed district to be continued, they think the incident proves that the harmony of the nations is liable at any moment to be disturbed.

Took Christmas.

Messrs. C. W. Jennings and R. L. Woodward took a large piece of casting, similar to the one, the explosion of which in the rear of the Gate City Citi Laundry last Christmas caused so much damage to the windows in that neighborhood and seriously injured a fireman on the Winston train, to the field near the Hucomuga cotton mill, yesterday afternoon, and filling it with dynamite, touched it off. The explosion was very loud and did what was anticipated, namely, broke the casting into small fragments. These fragments will be sold at a foundry, the price paid for such scrap iron being about fifty cents per hundred and the whole piece being unsalable. The casting weighed several tons.

$40,000 for Four Years.

That will leave for the four years, $60,000. Of this sum, $25,000 goes to pay the indebtedness, and $35,000 for permanent improvements, included in which are a practice and observation school, enlarged dormitory room and a gymnasium.
